SENATE DEBATES BRITISH AID TURKEY AGREES NOT TO BLOCK NAZIS

NON-AGGRESSION PACT BETWEEN TURKEY AND
BULGARIA REPORTED

MEANS TURKS HAVE BACKED DOWN FROM PROMISE TO FIGHT HITLER ADVANCE

By the Associated Press
The last big obstacle against a German march through Southeastern Europe to the Mediterranean apparently was removed today as reliable informants in Sofia reported that Bulgaria and Turkey had reached a non-aggression pact.

Assurance that Turkey would stand aside may be the keystone to fit together all the military and diplomatic preparations Germany has made for a Balkan offensive.

There is not much Bulgaria or Yugoslavia could do about it if Germany decided to send her army through them to reach the Danes or Greece.

But Turkey has the power at least to contest a Nazi onslaught if she chose to use it. The Turks have been the center of a long storm of power politics. The Germans have used diplomatic pressure to keep Turkey on the sidelines. The British made Turkey a potential ally by pledging aid in defense of Turkish integrity.

So far, Turkey has been an enigma-like her big neighbor, Soviet Russia. Neither has made a clear-cut stand on what her course would be if the Nazis, already perhaps 600,000 strong in Rumania, received orders to march.

Turkey, however, had indicated she would fight. European Turkey has been put under military rule and, despite official silence, the controlled Turkish press has declared that an invasion of Bulgaria would be regarded by Turkey as a cause for war.

"But now, according to the report of a Bulgarian-Turkish non-aggression pact, Turkey is pledged not to fight if the Nazis enter Bulgaria."

Sharp Blow to British. British sources acknowledged that such an accord means a sharp blow to British influence in the Balkans. Some diplomatic observers felt that the odds against Greece would become so great, her victories over Italy notwithstanding, that the mere threat of a German blow might force her to capitulate.

Weather laid a violent hand on Europe over the week end, but even hurricane-born storm failed to halt the relentless war in the air and on the seas.

Britain—still keeping an apprehensive eye on suspected trouble in the Far East—reported she had sent RAF bombers on a 2,000-mile roundtrip flight to Western Poland to drop pamphlets and others, with bombs,

FUTURE APPARENTLY GROWING DARKER FOR FIGHTING GREECE AS HITLER MOVES BALKANWARD

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer
Things aren't looking quite so good for hard-fighting but bantam-size Greece—and consequently for the Anglo-Greek partnership—as the result of Herr Hitler's politico-economic-military maneuvers in Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

The Balkan game isn't by any means played out, but the Fuehrer appears to have confirmed his domination of the Peninsula down as far as Greece and Turkey by "peaceful penetration" carried out in the shadow of the big stick.

In other words, his immediate aims is to smash Greece, thereby serving the outcome of the World War.

There are no official details of what happened when the Yugoslav ministers were summoned to Hitler's retreat at Berchtesgaden.

Indications are that both Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have bowed to the will of the Nazi chieftain. Bulgaria seems to have decided to allow her soil to be used as a German military base. This will give Hitler a powerful position right up against the Turks and Greeks, and will virtually complete the encirclement of unhappy Yugoslavia by axis forces.

It will be strange if this doesn't bring Bulgaria into the war as an axis ally. Bulgarians as a whole would much prefer to sit and drink their famous fermented milk and so (according to tradition) live to be centenarians, but they have little choice.

They looked to Russia for guidance, and the Muscovites reportedly washed their hands of the affair. Bulgaria is tough, but not tough enough to stand up alone against Hitler's mechanized hosts.

Her reward for being good is said to be the promise of Greek territory to give her a port on the Aegean, and the return of land taken from her by Yugoslavia as the outcome of the World War.

CHARACTER

I never turn away a jest or bid a pleasure quit my door, Right glad am I to stop and rest or caper on the ballroom floor; But when vacation hours have fled 'tis back to work a man must go.

For on the fields of idleness the fruits of purpose never grow.

I'm certain men were meant to laugh or laughter were to us denied. He walks life's path to see but half who tread it always are dimmed-eyed.

But comedy for the hour, as are the merry dance and song, And little on the fields of play will ever last for very long.

The rest, the change and freshened mind upon the fields of mirth we gain.

Then there a little while we find forgetfulness of grief and pain,

But back to toil we all must come to tire once more and be afraid, For it is where life's tasks are met the stuff called character is made.

BANDS FOR SOLDIERS

The age of miracles doesn't seem to be really ended. Nor the age of Godliness. Here is a little story which documents the statement.

The physical welfare supervisor of the Cleveland public schools received this letter the other day from a young man in Cincinnati:

"I am enclosing $1 to cover the admission price to ball games in which I slipped over the fence at Thomas Edison Field, I ask for forgiveness. I am a student at God's Bible School. I have been called to the Lord's service. I have a blessed peace in my soul, gentlemen. I have assurance of the saving power of God."

The sport supervisor read the letter twice, with great respect, and murmured, "Maybe he IS saved."

He turned to the problem of restoring that repentant dollar to the fund where it belonged, but he couldn't trace the games and there seemed no way to do it. So he endorsed the money order to God's Bible School as a contribution from the Cleveland Senate high schools, and wrote the sender an appreciative letter.

And now nobody need be surprised if a lot of boys, and maybe even grown-ups, in Cleveland and Cincinnati, will quit trying to sneak into games over and under fences. Maybe they'll feel like quitting some other things, too.

INSULTS FOR CONQUERORS

France seems rather quiet and it would be easy for an outsider to get the impression that the French are reconciling themselves to German-Italian occupation. That the contrary is true may be seen from the situation in Brest, a French seaport near the southern end of the English Channel. These "Regulations for the Population" were recently published by the mayor, on orders from the Nazi district commander:

1. National Emblems—The French population is forbidden to wear the tricolor emblem in any form. No object to be displayed may be decorated with the French national colors.

2. Insults To Italians—The inhabitants are expressly forbidden to insult the Italians and in particular the Italian vice consul in Brest, Signor Vittorio Job. If the vice consul is again insulted, the city of Brest will each time be assessed a fine of 50,000 francs.

3. Throwing of Stones and Sundry Rubbish on German Soldiers—Acts of this sort will be suppressed with extreme severity. If the culprits are not discovered, the city runs the risk of being assessed a heavy fine.

From such evidence, it doesn't seem likely that the French will ever reconcile themselves to tolerating the invaders. Life to the latter may be one endless succession of humiliating acts of resentment against the conquerors. And the same procedure is said to be followed in other invaded democracies.

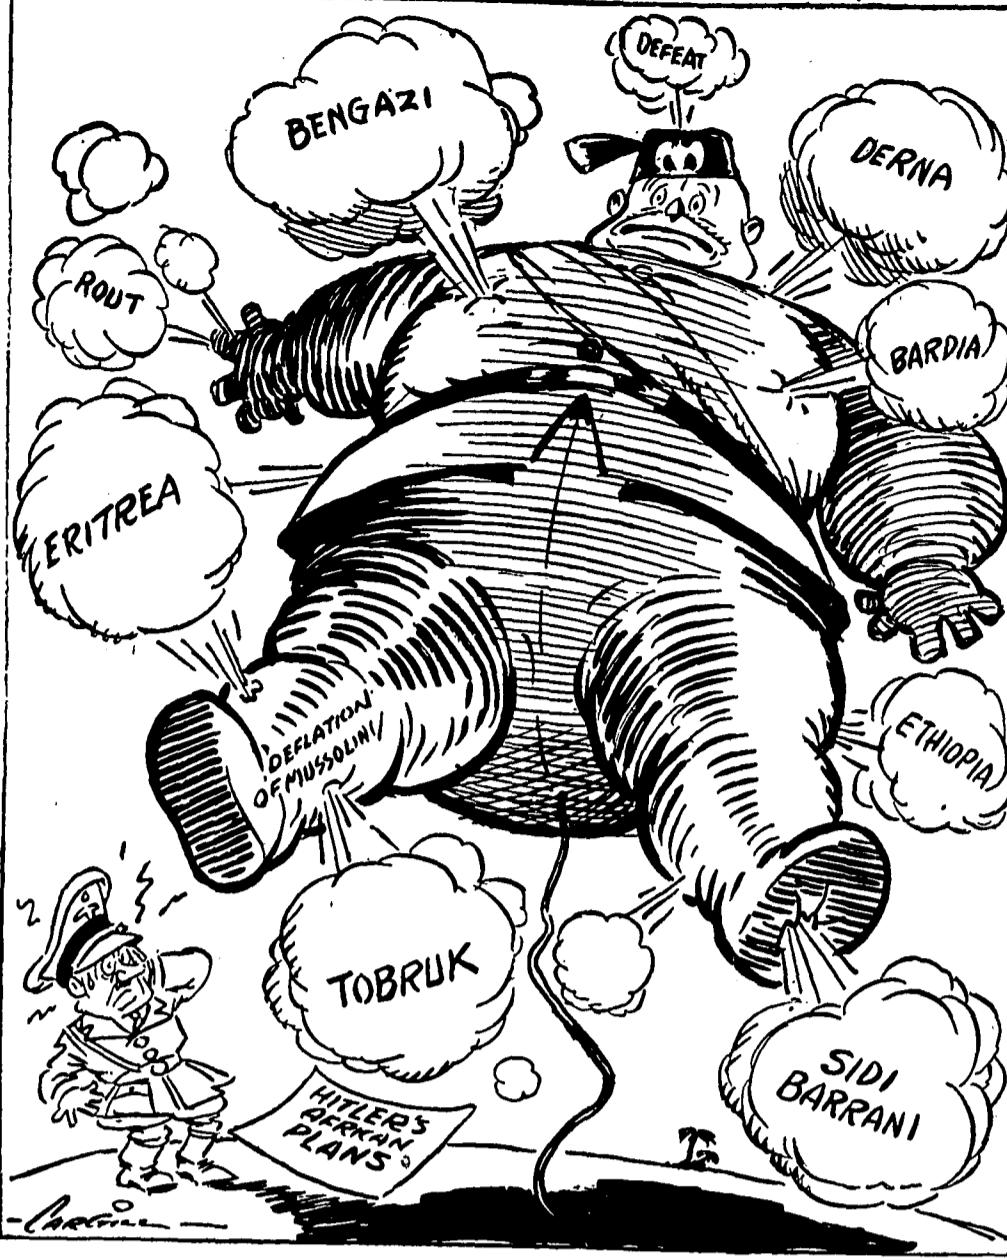

When you listen at night and hear a distant "tick-tick-tick" it may be Hitler in late watches, wondering how he's going to get out of what he's got into.

In spite of these new-fangled ideologies, there are such things as good and evil, right and wrong, just and unjust, decent and indecent, divine and devilish.

DAWSON BULLDOGS TO MEET FREESTONE COUNTY CHAMPIONS

DRAWING FOR PLACES WERE HELD IN WACO SATURDAY AFTERNOON

WACO, Feb. 17.—Drawings for places in the annual District University of Texas Interscholastic league basketball tournament were held at a meeting here Saturday afternoon.

Bill Henderson, Baylor coach, and district director, requested the various counties to send in their certification of the champion.

The tournament will be held at the Baylor gymnasium Friday and Saturday.

The tournament will be opened Friday afternoon at 1 P. M. when Corsicana High clashes with the Itasca Wampus Cats, Hill county champions.

Other Friday meets include:

2 P. M.—Freestone county champion vs. Dawson, Navarro county.

3 P. M.—Riesel, McLennan county champion, vs. Bosque county champion.

Waco vs. Prairie Hill.

7 P. M.—Waco vs. Prairie Hill, Limestone county champion.

8 P. M.—Marlin, Falls county, vs. winner Corsicana-Itasca tilt.

9 P. M.—Coryell county champion vs. winner of game between Freestone county-Dawson game.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday morning at 10 and 11 o'clock and the finals will be played Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Officials of the tournament will be Dr. W. H. Douglass and Lloyd Russell of Baylor; Mr. Dryden, Waco, and Harvey Ballew, Hubbard.

The Corsican Tigers drew perhaps the toughest schedule available. They not only were placed in the same bracket with the powerful Waco and Marlin clubs but also drew preliminary competition with the strong Itasca outfit.

Marlin drew a bye and will meet Corsicana only if the local unit overcomes the Wampus Cats of Hill county. Should the Tigers come through these two fracas with flying colors, Waco will then loom as the only formidable hurdle between them and the district championship as competition in the lower bracket is regarded as comparatively weak.

FATHER CORSICANA MEN PASSED AWAY IN SAN ANTONIO HOME

R. T. Hancock, about 35, injured near Powell Friday afternoon when his automobile turned over, was dismissed from the P. and S. Hospital late Friday. A Corley ambulance answered the call.

Officers said Franklin went into the ditch to avoid hitting a truck that had turned from the main Highway 31 pavement on to a sideroad.

Agnes Priddy Weds
Edward Lee Emmons
In Local NYA Center

The first wedding to be held in the Navarro County NYA residence center, 302 East Eleventh avenue, of which Mrs. C. J. Colp is superintendent, and Mrs. Ruth Yelvington, home economics teacher, took place Friday evening February 14, at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Agnes Priddy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Priddy of Dawson, became the bride of Edward Lee Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Emmons of Hubbard City, the bride having been a resident of the NYA home last year.

A most attractive setting of spring blossoms was arranged in a large living room with the drapes, double windows and background, Mrs. Colp having been assisted by Mrs. Bill White, a member of the NYA home advisory board, and Mrs. R. R. Range, in decorating for the wedding.

Improvized Altar.

A tall, white floor candelabrum holding white candles, marked the center of the improvized altar. It was entwined in lacy fern at its base was a large urn filled with japonica blossoms and spirea. On either side were tall white floor baskets in which were lovely arrangements of pink gladioli, clusters of pink rose carnations and fern. Joulous in low crystal containers adorned the piano and a large and very beautiful arrangement of golden daffodils, lent of their beauty to the library, where the invited guests were seated.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Isabelle Melton sang "At Dawn," and "Because," with Mrs. O. W. Holmes at the piano. As Mrs. Holmes played "Love You Truly," Miss Polly Butler lighted the candles.

As Mrs. Holmes played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the minister, the Rev. R. H. Price, pastor of the Dawson Methodist church, the bridegroom and best man, Charles K. Colp of Powell, took their places, and the bride came in with her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Vesta Grace Priddy of Dawson, who was wearing a navy blue frock.

The bride was becomingly gown in a dawn blue wool ensemble trimmed in red fox. With this she wore a small, flower-bedecked hat of dusty pink felt, and blond kid shoes. Her flowers were pink carnations and sweetpeas in a colonial bouquet with pink illusion.

Candie Light Ceremony.

As the wedding torch was being passed, the lights were turned out and the ceremony performed by candle light, which was most effective.

After the impressive ring ceremony, a reception was held, and punch and heart-shaped cakes were served from the lace-laid table in the dining room. The table was centered with two lovely Valentine arrangements of pink sweetpeas, carnations and fern, with pink lace background and pink ribbon bows. From the center of each arose a tall, pink taper and between the two were placed two crystal birdcages.

Mr. and Mrs. Cates presided over the punch bowl at one end of the table, and Miss Charline Childress served the heart-shaped wedding cakes. Miss Dorothy Smith presided over the bride's book.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Emmons left in their car for Waco for the night, and for El Paso this morning, where they will spend several days before returning by Dawson and Corsicana, en route to their home in Belleville, Ill., where Mr. Emmons is now stationed at Scott Field.

Mrs. Emmons is a graduate of the Dawson High School and has been a valued employee of the Chamber of Commerce the past year.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Priddy, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Priddy, Bobbie Joyce Priddy, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. Elmer Pendergrass, Celestine Pendergrass, Lorene Couch, Mrs. Pearl Vess, J. P. Davis, Earl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Womack, Virginia Womack, Genelle Copley, R. H. Price of Dawson, and Charles A. Kent of Powell.

Among Corsicana friends were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Knight, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Melton and Mrs. C. Bagby.

FEES IN CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CASES SET TO PURCHASE COUNTY LAW LIBRARY

Assessment of $1 per civil and criminal case tried in the county and district court, with certain exceptions, was authorized by the Navarro county commissioners' court Friday afternoon for a fund with which to purchase a county law library. Discussions were held on the inauguration of a WPA county-wide farm market road program, but no orders were passed. The commissioners will study roads within their precincts before definitely determining what construction will be undertaken.

Machinery Bought.

A used caterpillar No. 10 motor grader was purchased by the county for use in Precinct 4 with the trading in of a Serval maintainer. A difference of $2,374 in the two machines was the bid.

The motion was made by Commissioner Gillen, seconded by Commissioner Taylor. The trade was with the Company of Farmers.

Other motion of Commissioner Fitzgerald, seconded by Taylor, a new motor grader from the same concern was purchased for use in Precinct 2, with an Adams grader traded in, a difference of $2,374.

It was paid in 20 monthly installments without interest. All voted aye.

County Judge E. D. McCormick opposed the purchase, and County Auditor E. Y. Cunningham warned the commissioners that they were spending money faster than it was coming into the road and bridge fund.

Mrs. Walter Hamilton was hostess Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. L. Jackson, 504 North Twenty-fifth street, to the members of the Needlecraft Club with twelve in attendance. Mrs. Clayton Dunham was welcomed back with the club after several weeks' absence due to illness.

During the tea hour the hostess was joined by her daughter, Miss Edith Hamilton, and by Miss Sarah Mitchell, and was assisted by Miss Hamilton and Mrs. Jackson in serving a most delicious chicken salad plate with smacks, potato chips, tea or coffee as desired, and decorated heart-shaped cakes. Attractive Valentine plate favors, and Valentine design napkins added much to the attractiveness of the refreshment plate.

Gathered about a large open fire the members piled their needles in a most industrious manner as they conversed congenially together. After sewing, crocheting and knitting for a while, a Valentine contest was entered into by all, as a diversion, and Mrs. J. S. Mitchell was awarded the prize, an attractive Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Halbert and Mrs. Clayton Dunham will be joint hostesses to the club next Friday at the home of Mrs. Halbert, 648 West Sixth avenue.

Southern Pacific Making Improvements

Extensive improvements on the mainline tracks of the Southern Pacific in the Corsicana yards are scheduled to get under way early next week, according to an announcement by railroad officials Saturday.

The trackage from the intersection with the Burlington near the north city limits on through the main tracks will be raised several inches and reballasted.

A new overpass is also to be constructed at First avenue. The plan calls for a complete new structure of a type different from the usual low and considerable additional clearance will be provided. Traffic will be blocked off for several days while new piling is being driven and other work is in progress.

IMPROVED PASTURE SOURCE OF INCOME AND STOPS EROSION

MOST FARMS HAVE LANDS
THAT ARE SUITABLE ONLY
FOR PASTURAGE IS CLAIM

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of four stories concerning the work of the Soil Conservation Service CCC camp in the eastern Corsicana Soil Conservation Service CCC camp work area.)

An improved pasture used wisely is not only a source of food and income for the farm family but it is the only sure way to control erosion and to insure the continuous use of a part of the land on the farm, according to T. K. Morris, senior district technician, of the Corsicana Soil Conservation Service CCC camp.

"Most farms have some land that is not suitable for cultivation," he explained. "On the other hand, most of this land, when erosion is controlled, makes excellent pasture for work stock and milk cows. Pasture is much more efficient of erosion of soil type will produce more in pasture in connection with a livestock program than it will produce in cultivation. In addition, a good cover of pasture plants will control soil erosion." Other lands are suited for neither cultivation or pasture," he continued, "but are suited for woodlands or wildlife plantings."

Sodding with bermuda grass, overseeding with Italian rye grass, rye and Dallis grass, contour ridges or contour furrows to hold more of the rain on the land, controlled grazing and protection from burning are among improvement practices being used by farmers receiving assistance from the CCC camp, Morris said. Gullies are controlled by plowing them in and establishing vegetation in these areas. Diversion of water from large gullies is another step in their control.

Water Supply Necessary.

In obtaining the greatest possible use of pasture, it is necessary to have and adequate supply of good water, the senior district technician continued. The construction of stock ponds consequently have become a part of pasture improvement on many farms.

He pointed out that farmers are beginning to cross-fence their pastures in order to regulate grazing. "Regulated grazing is necessary if a farmer wishes to keep his pasture in good condition," the senior district technician said. "The district technician must give an opportunity to reseed and sod grasses lose their vigor if overgrazed. By cross-fencing pastures and rotating grazing, each pasture area will have an opportunity to reseed and the sod grasses will maintain their full vigor. Many farmers are also planting temporary pastures which they can use when they wish to give their permanent pasture a rest."

Accomplishments Listed

The accomplishments of farmers receiving assistance from the Corsicana CCC camp in connection with pasture development and improvements were listed as follows:

Accomplished
To Date—
Planting new and old pasture
(acres) 5,053
Contour ridges and furrows
(acres) 110
Gullies treated (number) 495
Gullies built (number) 2
Storage tanks (acre-feet) 204
Fencing (feet) 101,615

It was pointed out that some of the gullies controlled were in woodlands, in cultivated fields, or in areas which were being developed as meadows. Likewise, some fences have been built in connection with the protection of woodlands from grazing or for the purpose of enclosing meadows.

The 252 Navarro county farmers who have co-operative agreements with the Corsicana CCC camp have the following work planned in connection with the practices discussed earlier:

Planting old and new pastures, 7,831 acres; contour furrows and ridges, 728 acres; number of gullies to be treated, 898; number of ponds, 5; storage of ponds planned, 28.4 acre feet; and fencing, 118,956 rods.

The fourth of this series of stories will discuss the development of meadows.

After the meeting adjourned the recreational leader led in several Valentine games. Then she explained that each meeting she asked questions on the timely topics that were given at the last meeting. The winner of the game will have her name put down on a list and the person whose name appears the greatest number of times will receive a prize at the Christmas party in December. Mrs. French believes this will create a greater interest in the timely topics.

Mrs. Moran explained that collecting pitchers and pillow cases is her hobby. She displayed her hobbies with an interesting account of each. She explained that she had only been collecting for about eleven months, but now has 27 pitchers and some dozen pairs of pillow cases. The pillow cases are all hand-embroidered by the collection.

After Mrs. Moran's interesting talk, Mrs. Wayne French, with the compliments of the club, presented the speaker with a chocolate heart in appreciation for her kindness.

Mrs. Moran graciously accepted and invited the club to visit her club in the future.

Mrs. Loy Ritter gave the origin of Valentine in the timely topic.

She compared St. Valentine with oneself and explained its practicality to everyday living.

Mrs. Chas. Turner announced a pen pal to be held at her home on Friday night, February 14. Each lady will bring something to sell. Games of all kinds can be played for one cent a game. The price of anything will not exceed two cents. Proceeds will go in treasury.

ritories taken from Bulgaria and Hungary. In return they would be given part of Albania, an outlet to the Aegean at Salonika through Greece, and the smile of the führer. Despite the fact that the Yugoslavs are among the world's greatest fighters, there isn't much they can do but accept the situation, unless they choose to make martyrs of themselves and go down with flag flying.

With both Bulgaria and Yugoslavia in the sack, the Nazis would have erected a mighty barrier to any British attack on their eastern frontier through the Balkans.

It is said that the Germans would be able to build a high unpassable barrier, provided Russia didn't interfere and the Turks remained quiet. There lies the big "if" of the situation.

Turkey has indicated that she would set her powerful army into action if the Germans threatened the Dardanelles or attacked Greece. Britain would throw the Turks all the strength she could spare.

It would be rash to predict what might grow out of such a situation, but the possibilities are big. For one thing that might draw Yugoslavia into the war on the Anglo-American side, if she isn't irrevocably committed to the axis. She has no love for the Germans and might jump at a chance to escape from her present dilemma.

However, if it comes to a showdown and the Russians withhold their blessing, it is conceivable that the Turks would wage war on the Germans unless the latter make a direct attack on Turkish territory. Turkish neutrality would seal the Balkans up, and Hitler would be free to proceed with his projected invasion of England without so much fear of assault from the rear.

I am inclined to believe the unorthodox assurance given in Nazi news dispatches to Rumania yesterday that the Germans intend to open up a full attack on England shortly but that the Balkans won't be involved unless Britain moves first. I believe it because Hitler can't afford to wage war on two frontiers, if he expects to achieve quick victory.

FINANCE CAMPAIGN FOR BOY SCOUTS BE LAUNCHED TUESDAY

WORKERS WILL GATHER AT BREAKFAST AT NAVARRO HOTEL FOR BLITZKRIEG

Tomorrow is Boy Scout Finance Day. At 7:30 in the morning all workers will gather for an "Early Bird" breakfast at the Navarro Hotel to launch the annual finance campaign of the Navarro Boy Scout district. Campaign materials will be distributed and after a brief explanation of its use, the general solicitation will begin.

Scouts are busy this evening delivering letters to the homes of some workers, calling their attention to the "Early Bird" breakfast. Workers' wives are asked to co-operate by refusing to prepare breakfast at home for them, and reminding them of their promise to help the Scouts.

A final repeat meeting will be held at the hotel tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Scout patrol leaders and workers are invited to have coffee and doughnuts while making their returns. The campaign is expected to be completed at this meeting with the exception of a few who could not be reached.

The Navarro district is beginning its third year of providing Scouting to local boys. This district has enjoyed rapid growth in the past year, having extended the benefits of the program to the youngest boys from nine to 16 years of age through Cub Scouts and to older Scouts through the Sea Scouting program. Scouting now serves the boys of Corsicana from nine to 18 years of age. Over 450 boys were registered as Scouts and Cubs last year in this district. Over 100 men are giving voluntary leadership to Scouting in Corsicana.

Cronce has taken on the appearance of a lawyers' convention city. Around 100 attorneys have hustled in and out of town; many have established semi-permanent residences.

The influx of Stricklands and Vines has been so great that old-time residents say Cronce has experienced a mild boom.

The court reporter's file of exhibits looks like a miniature museum, with coffin wood, snuff boxes, pistols, guns, books, daguerreotypes and tintypes, powder horns, canteens, and other relics of many years ago.

Perhaps the most colorful story is that of Solomon Bedford Strickland, a thin little man with a Van Dyke beard who claims to be 101 years old and says he is the son of Wilson Strickland by an Indian woman.

His deposition consumed 742 pages.

Known as "The Red Wolfe" and "Handsome Jimmy," he said he lived with the Indians in Texas; fought a duel with a Yankee captain; was a member of Quantrell's guerrillas; was a personal friend of Jesse and Frank James; knew Bat Masterson and Sam Houston, and ate dinner at the White House with President Grover Cleveland.

Judge Walter D. Siler of Pittsboro, N. C., one of the attorneys, said the Strickland case was so involved that "we lawyers didn't have a sense of humor, we would have gone crazy before now."

Judge Siler, a sparse-haired Hitlerian, is a court jester. He keeps a journal of poetry and "newspaper stories" about the unique aspects of the trial. He calls it the Strickland Sentinel, Vince Vindictive and Humble Hope, "published semi-occasionally and entered as fifth-class matter."
